The University of Central Florida College of Education School of Teaching, Learning and Leadership is proud to announce the newly created, totally on-line, Master of Arts Degree Program in Educational Leadership. This Master of Arts Degree is designed as a global offering to persons who desire a Masters Degree offered totally on-line from one of the most respected university educational leadership programs in the United States. Such persons include curators of art centers and museums, directors of zoos and environmental centers, business human resources administrators, charter and private school administrators, employees of overseas schools, State Department employees, members of the armed forces and others.

This degree program consists of 30 semester hours of on-line course work and does NOT require the taking of the Graduate Record Examination for admission. The requirements for admission are as follows.

- Bachelor's Degree
- GPA of 3.0 overall from undergraduate study OR a GPA of 3.0 for the last 60 semester hours of undergraduate study
- Admission committee recommendation

The courses for this global Masters of Arts Degree will focus on the Interstate School Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) standards which most states have adopted and will not be Florida Department of Education approved for Educational Leadership certification in Florida. [Persons interested in obtaining State of Florida Certification in Educational Leadership should apply for the UCF Masters of Education (M. Ed.) in Educational Leadership, a thirty-nine semester hour program.]

The Master of Arts Degree program consists of thirty semester hours utilizing the following on-line courses. These courses may be taken in any order with the caveat that EDA 6909 be the culminating course.
