Degree Program Name Change

The College of Education received approval to rename the Instructional Technology/Media (M.A.) degree program and the three (3) tracks associated with the degree. The new names for these programs will be Instructional Design and Technology - Educational Technology (M.A.), Instructional Design and Technology - Instructional Systems (M.A.) and Instructional Design and Technology - e-Learning (M.A.).

This change is effective Fall 2011.

The University of Central Florida has one of the 12 best graduate-level counseling programs in the nation. The U.S. News & World Report Graduate Schools Guide ranked the College of Education program 12th in the nation in its annual rankings. The counseling program rivals programs that have been around for more than 50 years. “It’s very exciting,” said Sandra Robinson, the dean of the college. “It’s extraordinary to be so young and to be ranked so well in a field that has hundreds of programs.”
